

U.S. AIR FORCE ENERGY STOREFRONT

Your Storefront for Creative Energy Solutions

The U.S. Air Force Office of Energy Assurance (OEA) serves as the storefront for all Air Force energy resilience initiatives. Operating as the facilitator and integrator of energy assurance efforts, OEA advocates for resilience by ensuring initiatives align with installation and enterprise priorities.

DEDICATED TO ENERGY RESILIENCE

As the Energy Storefront, OEA engages with community and industry partners to identify innovative, technology-neutral solutions to enhance resilience and ensure mission success. OEA facilitates collaboration with local communities and industry partners to seek a deeper understanding of current market conditions and build mutually beneficial relationships.

As the Air Force Energy Storefront, OEA:

- ▶ Serves as the single point of entry for all installation energy requirements.
- ▶ Acts as the facilitator and integrator to maximize energy assurance and track execution with the appropriate Air Force organizations.
- ▶ Integrates energy assurance into the Air Force installation energy project portfolio by leveraging public, private and community partnerships.

PURPOSE

To balance the objectives of an installation's energy initiatives, optimize cost and provide resilient energy to enhance the Air Force mission.

Develop partnerships with leading innovators to leverage the best resilient technologies for installations.

Standardize energy projects intake and execution.

Increase momentum of projects outside the standard government schedule.
